Mark, This is a kind of suggestion or proposal about Charlie. He did great job at TEPCO Futtsu site on Generator rotor rewedging job. He was not only devoted to the job but also eager to learn anything he could from peers or vendors. He has good external focus mindset.

Then, I hit upon having him as a site project manager of Kashiwazaki Unit 6 Global Epoxy Injection starting from end this year. There will be two experienced GS at site during the project so that he doesn't have to have full knowledge on GEI.

I wonder if he can take PM class sometimes in this Summer and be assigned as PM of K-6 job. Please let me know your thought on this. Regards, Tomura Taiji
